How this is calculated

Value is modeled as sustainable annual Net Label Share (NLS) × a market multiple (typically 8–12×). NLS is what the owner keeps after artist royalties, distribution fees, and reserves — not headline streaming revenue. This is a directional, public-data estimate of the master/recording side; publishing is separate and additive.

How Recoup grows this number

- Recover uncollected royalties (neighboring rights, unmatched mechanicals, YouTube Content ID).
- Grow monthly streams via playlist-gap analysis and audience expansion.
- Document a clean, buyer-ready baseline so the catalog re-rates to a higher multiple — and watch the value climb month over month.
